

Jeff Majsce is the Chief Growth Officer at BryceTech. He oversees a portfolio of ongoing Government contracts and spearheads Bryce's growth in the Federal sector. He is responsible for developing and implementing growth strategies for the company including marketing, capture and proposal development focused on growing BryceTech's business base. He cultivates strategic relationships with Government clients and industry partners to ensure that Bryce's contracts are optimized for organizational effectiveness and aligned with the company's growth goals.

Mr. Majsce is a recognized leader in the defense sector and specializes in aerospace, security, and defense technologies and staffing support. Prior to joining BryceTech, he was Chief Growth Officer of The Tauri Group, where he worked for 14 years.

Mr. Majsce served in the U.S. Marine Corps for 20 years. He earned his Master of Business Administration from Point Loma Nazarene University and his Master of Arts in human resources development from Webster University. He received his Project Management Professional certification from the Project Management Institute in 2009.

Mr. Majsce is a member of numerous industry groups focused on providing support to the Federal Government.